

PACIFIC NORTHWEST COURT
INTERPRETER CONFERENCE
PRESENTER

---

ED ALLETTO

Ed Alletto was trained as an interpreter in 1978 at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, NY and has been interpreting ever since. Originally from Rochester, where he graduated with a business degree, Ed had a freelance practice in NYC for 13 years before arriving in Portland during a windstorm in 1994. Ed has interpreted in Oregon courts since 1995 as a contractor, joined CLAS's interpreting staff in January of 2007 as an ASL Interpreter II, and became an ASL Oregon Certified Court Interpreter in 2012. When Max Christian retired last May, Ed moved into his position as CLAS's Interpreter Analyst.
