

*PACIFIC NORTHWEST COURT
INTERPRETER CONFERENCE
PRESENTER*

JUDGE PRO TEM
CONNIE ISGRO

Judge Isgro graduated from Portland State University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business and a Certificate in Women's Studies. She earned her law degree from Northwestern School of Law of Lewis and Clark College in Portland. After practicing for several years in a general law practice, she concentrated her work in the area of juvenile law. From 1991 to 2002 Judge Isgro was a Juvenile Court Referee/ Judge Pro Tem in the Multnomah County Juvenile Court, presiding over both dependency and delinquency cases. After a brief period of retirement she returned to the Multnomah County bench in 2007 as the Judge Pro Tem assigned to the Involuntary Civil Commitment docket.