

PACIFIC NORTHWEST COURT
INTERPRETER CONFERENCE
PRESENTER

---

Sergeant Barrett Taylor has been the unit manager for the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office Court Services Unit for 4 ½ years. He and the CSU deputies escort inmates to and from court as well as provide public safety services to the busiest and largest court system in Oregon. Sergeant Taylor has worked for the Sheriff's Office for 20 years. He has worked in corrections and law enforcement. For most of his career he has been assigned to Court Services. Sergeant Taylor has developed training curriculum covering officer safety, procedural law, and emergency response. These trainings have been delivered to both court staff and law enforcement. Sergeant Taylor is a lifelong Oregonian and a graduate of the University of Portland.