This program is for people who are representing themselves in a family law court action. All court cases are serious.

You are advised to consult with a lawyer.

- We are not lawyers, and we cannot represent you.
- We cannot give you legal advice or help you with legal strategy.
- We cannot tell you what legal action you should take.
- We cannot fill out forms for you.
- We assume no responsibility for the accuracy or legal effects of the information contained in any written or verbal instructions or forms staff may give you.
- It is your responsibility to choose and prepare your own forms.
- Any meetings or conversations you have with us are not confidential.

We can explain what forms are available and may be able to offer information on other legal resources in the court and the community. We can provide you with some standard forms and try to answer your basic questions about court procedure.

Please be aware that we may also assist your spouse or opposing party in your case by answering questions about the forms and procedures.

I have read the above information and understand it fully. I understand it would be wise to consult with an attorney, and that it is my choice whether I do that or not.
