

What is ROC Court?

Jackson County Circuit Court – Recovery Opportunity Court (ROC) is a court supervised program to reduce substance abuse, criminal behavior, and increase rehabilitation through intense court intervention and drug and alcohol treatment. Frequent drug treatment, drug testing, rewards and sanctions are used to promote long-term sobriety, accountability and productive lifestyles.

In ROC Court, the Judge, prosecutor, defense attorneys, probation officers, law enforcement, coordinator and treatment providers are a working team. The ROC Court Team works together to help a person change their life and achieve personal and program goals. The ROC Court team meets weekly to review progress of participants, based on information from treatment, probation, police etc. Participants receive rewards and sanctions based on progress for their reports and sobriety milestones.

Drug Courts Work!

Rewards & Sanctions:

The basis for a successful Drug Court Program is when people feel good about staying clean and sober and positive behavior is reinforced. Therefore, the ROC Court Program values being able to give rewards and incentives to people who are doing well, staying sober and achieving goals.

When a person does not comply with program rules the Judge will impose immediate sanctions. Some sanctions include verbal reprimands, writing essays, jail, community service and termination from the program.
